New York, November 9.—Charging "open and flagrant disenfranchisement of colored voters in a number of states in the presidential election of 1920," directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, today urged on congressmen, urging enforcement of the fourteenth amendment and "consequent reduction of representation in southern states in 1932."

Boy Hit by Auto.

A 6-year-old boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atkins, 18 Beecher street, was bruised slightly when struck accidentally by an automobile driven by L. W. Phillips, 47 Avon avenue, on Lee street, shortly after noon Tuesday. He was carried home by Mr. Phillips. No charge was made against Mr. Phillips.

"Life is a story," sighed the sentimental flapper.

"Yes, dearie," replied her friend, "it's a story you seem to divide into 'Chap one,' 'Chap two,' and so on."

ANTI-AMERICAN POLICY OPPOSED BY FRANCE

According to the Paris Paper—The Position of the United States Out of League of Nations Discussed.

Paris, November 9.—Commenting editorially on the approaching assembly of the league of nations at Geneva, Switzerland, The Temps says:

"As long as we ignore the intentions of the future American president, how can continental disarmament be discussed? No one knows whether the United States with their enormous resources would interfere or not in order to avoid a new 1914.

"How can naval disarmament be discussed? The nations of Europe and of the Far East would seem to be forming a coalition under the leadership of the United States."

Inspiration of Great Britain in order to enjoin the United States to construct any more warships. The discussion would only succeed in poisoning the situation and giving rise to the appearance of an anti-American policy, to which France could never subscribe.

"France cannot be suspected as opposed to disarmament, as was proved by the amendment which Leon Bourgeois proposed to add to Article 8 of the covenant when the Versailles treaty was drafted; but we must realize that disarmament is not a question which may be dealt with behind the backs of the Americans.

Close Watch on Activities.

"The future activities of the league of nations will be closely watched owing to the absence of the United States, but on the other hand the United States cannot remain absent from an international organization embracing practically the whole of the world. Here is a case in point: Two American republics, Peru and Bolivia, addressed requests to the league November 1 asking the Geneva assembly to annul treaties which Peru and Bolivia were forced to sign with Chile in 1883 and 1904. Should both requests be accepted and form a matter for the exchange of views, there occurs the remarkable fact that the purely American question will be discussed without the assistance of the United States.

"In the present case the United States will suffer no damage, but it will be seen that by a strange paradox it is the absence of the United States from the league, and not its admission, which menaces an encroachment upon the Monroe doctrine."

BULGARIA ASKS FOR ADMISSION INTO THE LEAGUE

Geneva, Switzerland, November 9. (By the Associated Press.)—Bulgaria's request for admission to the league of nations was received at the headquarters of the league here today.

The application, which came from Premier Stamboulsky, was received by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary of the league, and is being forwarded to the members.

The Bulgarian premier disclaimed for the government and nation any complicity in the decisions of former King Ferdinand and his government to join the central empires in the war. He points out that Bulgaria, as soon as it was in a position to do so, severed all ties with the past, and at present was a stable government, which had given proofs of its loyalty toward the entente.

M. Stamboulsky declares that it will observe the same loyal attitude with regard to the obligations assumed by Bulgaria.

No other applications for admission to the league have been received by the secretariat, and no formal notice has been given by any of the members of an intention to propose other states. It is still understood, however, that one Scandinavian delegation plans to ask for the admission of Germany.

AMERICAN BEING HELD BY TURK NATIONALISTS

Conditions So Serious Relief Work Will Be Halted
in Asia Minor.

New York, November 9.—Conditions in Asia Minor and Turkey in Europe are so serious that the Near East relief committee has decided to suspend all relief work in the Near East for the time being.

This announcement was made here today by a national official of the Near East relief committee, who reported that J. P. Coombs is being held by Turkish nationalists at Samsoun. Coombs is director of the or 'nation's relief operations in the Samsoun area.

Fear for the safety of other members of Coombs' detachment was also expressed by the committee. Near East relief. Besides Melville Chatter, a writer who accompanied Coombs on his mission, the party consisted of five Americans, three of whom are wounded. At last advice these were quarantined at Samsoun and reported safe for the immediate present.

On the strength of an alarming cable received at the commission headquarters, the passage of six relief workers who were to have sailed for Constantinople on the Panionia tomorrow has been canceled. The cable, signed by the general director of Near East relief at Constantinople, read:

"Situation extremely serious. Send no more personnel."

The commission's office here has received no direct advice regarding the plight of Coombs, whose home is at Apalachicola, Fla. He served with the American forces during the war as lieutenant colonel of the 196th engineers and after the armistice as liaison officer in Berlin between a German government and the American military authorities.

Other members of the Coombs party at Samsoun are Gertrude E. Knox, of Providence, R. I.; Dr. George T. Pomeroy, of Burbank, Calif.; Marjorie D. Pfeiffer, of New York, and Mrs. Robert H. McDowell, of New York.

ATLANTA WILL ASK POLICE SEEK MEN BOOZE CAR MONEY IN DEATH MACHINE

Police Commissioners Dissatisfied With the Law
Which Gives the County
Two-Thirds of Sale Pro-

Expressing dissatisfaction with the present law under which Fulton county receives two-thirds of the proceeds from the sale of confiscated whisky cars caught by Atlanta police officers, the board of police commissioners Tuesday night voted to ask the next legislature to amend the law so as to entitle the city of Atlanta to all the money which the county now derives from such sales.

Action on the recommendation of Police James L. Beavers that the license of Newport A. Lanford, chief of the Lanford National Detective agency, be revoked, was deferred, to be taken up at the same time that he will be brought to trial before the board, charged with the recent shooting of Attorney John A. Highsmith. The date for the trial has not yet been fixed.

A special committee, composed of Mayor Key and Commissioners C. J. Vaughan and Andy King, was appointed by the chairman to take up the matter and endeavor to procure the amendment sought by the board relative to whisky cars.

The question of funds from the sale of whisky cars arose when the board was called on to consider and approve rewards to city policemen and detectives for the capture of a number of automobiles containing intoxicants.

Under the state law, as explained by Lamar Poole, chief of detectives, the arresting officer receives as a reward one-third of the money from the sale of an automobile which he captures carrying liquor and the other two-thirds is retained by the county.

This was declared to be unfair by Dr. Vaughan and by Mayor Key, who stated that the city in this

Victim of Auto Accident
Identified as Egbert E.
Gales—Officers Believe
He Was Riding in Car.

The body of Egbert E. Gales, of Waverly, N. Y., a traveling salesman for a Chicago firm, was found dead in the wreck of an automobile which had struck a telephone pole at the corner of Westwood and Cascade road at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning by policemen. The body of Mr. Gales was lying in a pool of blood which had flowed from a deep gash in his neck, believed to have been made by glass of the windshield, through which he had evidently been thrown when the automobile in which he was riding struck the telephone pole with sufficient force to break it off near the ground.

There was no one in the vicinity of the wrecked automobile when the body was found, and as far as could be ascertained the police up to a late hour Tuesday night there were no witnesses to the occurrence other than the persons in the automobile with Mr. Gales. The identity of these other persons has not been established, although the detectives are making every effort to find them.

Later in the morning officers arrested John Sullivan, 8 Williams street. Sullivan, whose mouth was instance, as in some others, "is getting the little end of the stick." It was upon Dr. Vaughan's motion that the board acted to appoint a committee.

The trial of Officer L. J. Terry, sentenced last week to serve twenty days in jail for contempt by Judge Humphries, of the superior court, who recommended that he be dismissed from the force, was discussed but no date set when he will face the board.

A special meeting will be held next Tuesday night, when charges against six policemen are scheduled to be heard.

bruised and bleeding, informed the officers that he and other men had been drinking the night before the accident, and that later, accompanied by other men whose names he could not recall, he had taken a ride in an automobile. He couldn't give any details of the accident.

Shortly after the arrest of Sullivan, Robert Palmer, 8 Williams street, called at the police station, and claimed ownership of the wrecked car, asserting that the automobile had been stolen earlier in the morning or late the previous night from the corner of Peters and Fair streets.

Mr. Gales' relatives in New York were communicated with, and a telegram was sent by them to relatives in this city, requesting that the body be sent to Waverly. It is now at the undertaking establishment of Greenberg & Bond.

The automobile accident has an element of mystery in that a satisfactory explanation of the wreck, followed by the death of Mr. Gales, has not been found by the police.

A dragnet has been thrown out by the police for Sullivan's companions.

Terminal Employees Sue.

Suits aggregating $264,264 were filed in Fulton superior court Tuesday by 136 employees of the Atlanta Terminal company against the company for alleged back pay and overtime accrued in 1918, 1919 and 1920. The plaintiffs are all residents of Atlanta and are employed at the Atlanta terminals as mail porters, baggage porters, track hands and local firemen. Attorneys Hill and Adams are counsel for the plaintiffs.

16-Year-Old Boy Fined.

Thomas Harris, the 16-year-old boy, alleged to have been caught in an attempt to steal an automobile belonging to Dr. L. P. Baker from in front of the Lyric theater Saturday night, was Tuesday afternoon fined $10 and costs by Recorder Johnson. The boy claims that he recently arrived in the city from Nashville, Tenn., said that he was unable to pay the fine, and would be compelled to communicate with his father in Nashville.

FIGURING MACHINE

For Beauty's Sake

Remove that film-coat from your teeth

Teeth cannot glisten with a film-coat on them. You who want white teeth must learn how to remove it.

This week your druggist offers—free—a new way of teeth cleaning. Millions now employ it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Go make that test. One week's results will be a revelation.

Film—the great enemy

But this is more than a beauty question. Film ruins millions of teeth. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste cannot end it, so the tooth brush has left much of it intact.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing, because brushing failed to end that film.

Now a new dental era

Dental science, after years of research, has found ways to combat film day by day. The methods have been proved efficient by many careful tests. High authorities endorse them. And millions of people now employ them, largely by dental advice.

These methods are combined in a tooth paste called Pepsodent. Together they combat the film as nothing else has done. And they are fast bringing, the world over, a new era in teeth cleaning.

That is the tooth paste you are urged to test. See the instant results—watch the effects for ten days. Then decide for yourself between the old ways and the new.

The unique effects

One ingredient of Pepsodent is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also. That to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

The Pepsodent effects come with every application. Day by day they fight the teeth's great enemies. And teeth are protected as they never were before.

See and feel it act

Present this coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

The results are quick and apparent. A little book tells the reasons for them. For your own sake learn how much they mean.

FREE

This week only

At any drug store named below, a 10-day tube of Pepsodent. Simply present the coupon. Let this new way prove itself. Judge by results what it means to you. Learn now the way that millions know to whiter, safer teeth.

Now daily used by millions

Millions of people are now using Pepsodent. You can see the results wherever you look—in glistening teeth.

Women who think their teeth white now should see how they look with the film gone.

With men who smoke the films are apt to be particularly discolored. They will see the most conspicuous results.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to decay. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be daily applied from the time the first tooth appears. It may save their troubles life-long in effect.

LEAVE RAILROADS IN PRIVATE HANDS

But With Public Regulation—That Is Stand of Commissioners of Utilities.

Washington, November 9.—Public ownership and operation of railroads has failed wherever it has been properly tested, declared a committee report made today to the thirty-second annual convention of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners in session here.

The question of private ownership with regulation as against public ownership without regulation "should no longer be considered by intelligent investigators as an open question," the report asserted. It added that private ownership and operation with public regulation was the "only just and honest manner of conducting the public utility business of this country."

One Commissioner Opposes. The convention ordered the report printed without other action upon it after Commissioner Edward Field, of Missouri, had opposed its adoption, saying he believed in public ownership.

Utilization of state regulatory commissions as regional federal commissions was proposed by Federal Judge George W. Anderson, of Boston. "I see no solution until our railroads are both unified and federalized," he told the convention, adding that the transportation act went farther toward federalization than had been generally recognized.

Railroads, Judge Anderson asserted, should be "administered as a co-ordinated national unit." The transportation act, he added, provided for a limited number of systems, thus bowing to the old fetish of competition in service—"a worship that will be found as empty and profitless in the future as it had been wasteful and confusing in the past."

The speaker said he was "not hopeful" of the success of the transportation act.

Protection of the constitutional rights of state commissions was urged by President Walter A. Shaw in his annual report. The greatest enemies of regulation, he said, are politics, the group which believes in public ownership of all utilities and "the improper attitude of many utilities toward the public."

Regulation to Stay.

America will never again have private control and operation of railroads unaccompanied by state and federal regulation, Chairman Clark, of the interstate commerce commission, declared in an address to the convention.

"Even if we shall come to government ownership and operation," added Mr. Clark, "the necessity for a separate tribunal with jurisdiction to determine questions of reasonableness of charges and alleged discriminations will be present."

Referring to federal control of the railroads, the chairman said:

"When the final balance sheet shall have been completed, it will be found that the American people paid a handsome sum for the use and operation of the railroads during the war, but as such use and operation was essential as a war measure we must, I think, in fairness consider it as a part of the necessary expense of the war."

Chairman Clark declared that the right of the states to regulate their internal affairs was recognized throughout the transportation act, and he urged co-operation between the state and federal commissions as authorized by the law.

The States and Rates.

The association embraces all the regulatory commissions of the country, every state being represented with the exception of Delaware, as well as Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and the District of Columbia.

Conflict between state and federal authority in the regulation of interstate transportation rates is expected to play an important part in the deliberations of the convention. Efforts by the railroads to make effective on traffic within states the advanced rates granted by the federal commission for interstate traffic have been contested by a number of the state regulatory bodies.

"The state commissions are passing through a trying period," the call for the convention declared. "Selfish interests seeking freedom from state control have waged and are still waging war against them. This association has not and never can have any quarrel with federal regulation in the field of federal jurisdiction. But it resents the efforts of those who seek to curtail the rightful powers of the sovereign states over strictly interstate matters."

THE GENIUS OF WALTHAM

THE war is over. But there are some of us who will never forget. They, also, who go down to the sea in ships, have long memories. Let us keep them company and take a "sight" through the periscope of Time.

Darkness! The kind of darkness that you feel. In the midst of the Stygian gloom, a little ship, one of Uncle Sam's destroyers. On guard! Somewhere off the coast of France. "Somewhere" is a good word for a night like this.

Add to the black murk a cutting wind with an icy edge to it, a blare of angry waters, and you get a mixture you wouldn't like to prescribe for any man's comfort. But war is only another name for duty. That's why this little destroyer is smashing into the thick of it. And doing a good job, too.

And somewhere aboard that throbbing, panting, leaping ship is a clock. "The ship's chronometer," the navigating officer calls it. But to gob and officer alike it is a symbol of home. For right there across its shining face is a familiar name—Waltham—a name that is as much a token of Uncle Sam being on the job night and day as the good ship under them. But that's the other part of our story—

Time, in navigation, is as important as the sun and the stars. A reliable chronometer can always be seen in the Chart Room, but the sun does not always shine in the heavens. Small wonder, then, that the chief officer of a ship is so finicky over this timepiece. He guards it, he watches it, he prizes it, above all his possessions. It reckons for him the sea-miles when he has no other reckoning. It is the one friend he can depend upon when the elements league their cyclonic powers of wind and fog and storm against him.

NOW the history of the chronometer is more or less a fanciful record of European supremacy. This tradition of the sea had it that the only reliable chronometer was one made either in England or on the continent. But many a tradition has been scrapped by necessity, and this is one of them. And any sailor-man will tell you that tradition in the Navy is as hard to overcome as a United States battleship stripped for action. But wait—

When war was declared there were not enough foreign chronometers to go around. Here was the American craftsman's chance, for which he had been waiting a long, long time. The Navy Department, in the vernacular, was up against it. "Chronometers! Oh, for some chronometers!" was the cry. So the Waltham Watch Company was called upon. "Can you supply the Navy with chronometers?" "Certainly! How many?" The order was given and with Yankee dispatch promptly filled. Indeed, Waltham eventually supplied more chronometers during the war than all other makes combined.

Then it was that the Waltham Chronometer went to sea and shattered forever the cherished tradition of foreign chronometer supremacy by standing up under conditions of war that often put the alien chronometer out of business. And they stood up so consistently that prejudiced old salts in verbal and written praise saluted the performances of this American Keeper of Time upon the Sea.

FOR instance—imagine an instrument keeping the closest time in a subchaser, head on in a stormy sea. Every unit of the little ship shaking like a leaf. Straining, twisting, being buffeted, beaten. Now, hurled to the crest of a giant wave; anon, plunging like a stricken bird into a yawning pit of swirling water; sometimes lifted bodily, then crashed down like a toy thrown from the hand of a giant—and every moment that delicately adjusted but sturdy Waltham Chronometer ticking the fleeting seconds, unconcerned except with the business of keeping time—correct time, for the gallant lads who put their trust in this Watch Over Time while they keep their watch above or below deck.

This was the acid test. But when we stop to think of it, Waltham had been preparing for over seventy years for our country's emergency—because of Waltham invention in watch making, because of advancement unto advancement in the art of developing time-keeping mechanisms, and those miracle-working machines that cannot be found or duplicated elsewhere in all the world, giving America precedence in this important industry. This, we believe, was true preparedness; this was Waltham's pride and honor, in vindicating the sinew and ability of American industry in war's fiery challenge, as no less the Waltham Watch has sustained American supremacy at the great Expositions in times of peace.

WE should be remiss if we forgot the mighty dead—those sons of genius who labored long years in Waltham laboratories for the glory of America.—Charles Van de Woerd, Duane H. Church, Charles Whitney, John Logan and others. "They rest from their labors, but their works do follow them." And no less those master American mechanics, Marsh and Ohlson (the inventor of the Waltham Time Fuse), who are still adding lustre to the fame of the American Waltham Watch all over the world.

As Americans we should have long memories. It is inspiring to review the past. We have much to elate us, to help us "carry on," to produce more and still more, to supply the world with the work of our brains and hands. For in labor, well and cheerfully done, is our health, wealth and happiness.

DECISION IS NEAR IN CAR FARE SUIT

Attorney Alfred C. Broome Will Make the Concluding Argument for College Park Today.

A decision in the injunction suit brought by the city of College Park against the Georgia Railway and Power company to prevent the latter from increasing the street car fare from five to seven cents will probably be made by Judge John T. Pendleton Wednesday, following the conclusion of argument by Attorney Alfred C. Broome, counsel for the municipality.

Attorney Luther E. Rosser, Tuesday afternoon, concluding the argument for the power company, declared most emphatically that the agreement between the company and the city was irregular in form and not authorized. He elaborated on the contention of the company that the contract between the municipality and the city is null and void in that the city has no power to contract as to street car fares and has never had any such power, because there is no authority which has ever given it that power.

The case will probably go to the United States supreme court before it is finally determined. If the court grants the temporary injunction, the power company will appeal to the Georgia court of appeals. If the court denies the temporary injunction an order will be passed dissolving the restraining order now in force and seven-cent fares would go into effect immediately. In this case Judge Pendleton would grant a conditional supersedeas, requiring the street railway company to give receipts for every seven-cent fare collected, and these receipts would be redeemable at par if the higher court reversed the decision.

R. F. MADDOX TELLS OF FOREIGN EXPORT BANK

chinery in this country to extend these credits, but it was believed that a bank under the Edge act which was passed for the purpose of facilitating just this kind of business, was the practicable thing to organize.

A committee was appointed to carefully draw resolutions expressing the opinion of the bankers present, and to fix a definite time for closing the subscriptions to the capital stock of the proposed company—to name a list of bankers who would serve as directors and to immediate steps to be taken by the federal reserve board, which, under the law, will have the direct supervision of the operations of the company.

This committee made its report Saturday night, and it was unanimously adopted. The report provided for a campaign to be immediately organized in all of the southern states, and the subscriptions to the bank.

located geographically in relation to the cotton industry. It was decided that the bank should begin business when there are small amounts of cotton, the capital stock the amount of $5,000,000, represented by 50,000 shares of $100 each.

It was also decided that subscriptions should not be binding until the total $5,000,000 was subscribed. It was found that the capital and surplus and undivided profits of the banks in the cotton-growing states south of Virginia amounted to $475,000,000, and it was decided to request the banks to subscribe 3 per cent of their capital and surplus to the proposed bank. It was, of course, impossible to estimate how much would be subscribed by the banks in the south, but it was believed that a subscription between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 could be received.

Under the amendment to the Federal Reserve act, national banks are permitted to subscribe as much as 10 per cent of their capital and surplus to an organization of this character, and a total of 10 per cent of the capital and surplus of the banks in the south are also allowed to subscribe to this bank. The cotton industry in the south had for many years been the most important item of export from the United States. In the period of fifty years, the exports of cotton from the south had amounted to more than a balance of the trade between the United States and the rest of the world in that time. In other words, the cotton raised in the south had enabled the United States to have a balance of trade in its favor, and without it we would have been a debtor nation. He believed that the export of cotton would be one of the most important items of export from this country for many years to come.

Stimulated Production. He also showed that the United States during the last five years had greatly stimulated its production in agriculture, manufactured products and in the output of its mines. It was the tremendous demand for the products of this country during the war we were able to produce much more than we had deemed possible, and it was very essential now, in order to keep our labor employed, to have our factories and our farmers continue to produce, and this could only be done by finding markets in every part of the world.

The enormous business done in the United States during the war can best be illustrated, he said, by stating that the balance of trade in favor of the United States for the five year period between 1909 and 1914 was $2,745,000,000, whereas the balance of trade in favor of the United States from 1914 to 1919 amounted to $14,000,000,000.

Mr. Maddox further stated that he believed if we could create a demand for our surplus cotton at this time it would be of great benefit to every line of business in the south, and unless something was done along this line the cotton market would continue to drag and possibly go much lower.

The operations of the federal reserve banks have demonstrated the wisdom of co-operation among the banks, he claimed, and this movement to get the southern banks to co-operate in subscribing to the capital stock in this banking company would do much to bring the banks in this immediate section together and enable them to promote the best interests of the south in a way heretofore impossible.

Would Be Profitable. Mr. Maddox further explained that he believed the stock of the proposed banking company would, in addition to helping the south in every line of business, be a very profitable investment, as it would have an acceptance power of ten times the capital stock; for instance, if $10,000,000 is subscribed it would be able to issue its notes or acceptances to the amount of $100,000,000.

With the restrictions thrown about its operations by the act of congress, there is but little danger of its failing to succeed and the board of directors already selected were men who had attained the confidence of the business interests of their several states and at present were the active officers of large banking institutions in whose hands the affairs of the company could be trusted with safety.

Mr. Maddox further explained that the bank was not intended to be organized solely to relieve the present emergency, but it would function for many years to come in promoting the sale of southern products throughout the world and its possibilities for good were practically unlimited.

Mr. Maddox also stated that a resolution was unanimously adopted at the New Orleans meeting requesting the president of each bankers association in the south to call a meeting at once of his organization for the purpose of discussing this matter and have the banks agree to take their proportion of the capital stock. A meeting of the Georgia bankers will be called at once by President Martin.

While it was understood that a very large percentage of the stock of this company would be and should be subscribed by the banks, an opportunity to co-operate in the movement would be presented to the exporters and enterprises engaged in the manufacture of export articles, several of which having already indicated their desire to purchase some of the stock, he said.

The banks in New Orleans before the meeting adjourned, subscribed to $1,000,000, which was more than 5 per cent of the capital and surplus of the banks in that city, he claimed.

Will Take Necessary Steps. Mr. Maddox stated that an organization committee composed of F. H. Saunders, chairman, New Orleans; Nathan Adams and J. A. Pondron, Texas; D. M. Armstrong, Tennessee; John K. Otley, Georgia, and Oscar Wells, Alabama, would immediately take the necessary steps to secure the charter and proceed with the details of the organization.

A campaign committee was appointed, he stated, which was expected to present the importance of the company to each of the states, was named as follows: Robert F. Maddox, chairman; J. Elwood Cox, North Carolina; J. S. Pope, Florida; Tom O. Smith, Alabama; S. J. High, Mississippi; T. J. Caldwell, Texas; Moorehead Wright, Arkansas; T. E. Preston, Tennessee. A member for this committee from Virginia, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kentucky would be added. This committee will proceed at once to have the matter brought to the attention of the bankers in each of the southern states and it is believed that before December 10 subscriptions far in excess of the $5,000,000 minimum will have been received, and no impetus will be given to the south and its every business interest.

Senator Hoke Smith, who was a supporter of the Edge act, explained the purpose of that act and showed that it gave the south an opportunity to extend such facilities to foreign countries as were eagerly waiting to buy our cotton. He warmly commended the purpose of the movement, and stated that the banks of the south could not afford to withhold their support from a measure freight with such great advantage to the cotton industry of the south, and upon which rested the prosperity of every other line of business. He believed that the Georgia banks would promptly subscribe their part, and that Atlanta banks would lead the way.

Lane Shows Advantages. Mills B. Lane, president of the Citizens and Southern bank of Savannah, who, with Mr. Maddox, is one of the two Georgia directors selected at the organization meeting in New Orleans, warmly supported the purpose of the movement, stating that he believed that the Georgia banks would cheerfully subscribe stock to the corporation. He showed that it was of tremendous advantage to the south, and that it would open the way for the prompt sale of two or three million bales of cotton in Europe that could not now be bought, because of lack of credit facilities. He said that such an institution, by extending credit facilities now lacking, would not only make money for itself, but it would be a tremendous factor in relieving the present depressed condition of the cotton market, and thus indirectly benefit every other line of business in the south.

J. K. Otley, president of the Fourth National Bank of Atlanta, a member on the organization committee of the New Orleans meeting, stated that he was much impressed with the interest manifested at that meeting. Not more than 25 or 30 men were expected, but when the meeting was called to order, the room in which it was held was not large enough to accommodate the bankers present, every cotton state being represented.

The Texas Movement. He said Texas had started an independent movement of its own, but that it had agreed to merge its own plan into the general movement affecting the whole south. He stated that in his opinion, not a bank in the cotton states could afford to withhold its hearty support and predicted great prosperity for the cotton industry of the south as a result of this enterprise.

S. C. Dobbs stated that he had in his possession a letter from a prominent Czechoslovak banker who stated that that country was ready to buy several hundred thousand bales of cotton on a day's notice if credit facilities were available. More than that the letter stated that the banks of the government and the government itself would guarantee payment for such purchases.

Joseph A. McCord, of the Federal Reserve bank, stated that this bank would gladly discount notes submitted by an export corporation of this kind. He said that no better movement had ever been started for the benefit of the cotton interests of the south than this one, and he urged the Atlanta bankers to start the Georgia movement with subscriptions to the stock of the proposed corporation. He was confident that the other banks of the state would immediately feel that Georgia's pro rata should be raised at once.

He further pointed out the opportunity existing for such a corporation existing in the fact that the Atlantic Federal Reserve district has more ports of entry in it than there are in any other federal reserve district in the United States and united with the Dallas and Richmond areas comprises more ports and a great coast line than all of the rest of the country combined.

Everyone present at the meeting was deeply interested in the discussion, and sentiment seemed to be unanimous in favor of co-operation and all believed that the Georgia banks would promptly subscribe their part.

The directors of the Atlanta banks all agreed to meet within a week to take definite action for their respective institutions.

oath of W. T. Anderson, near Leslie, Schaffner Whitehead, a negro, is held in jail here. When first arrested Whitehead told Sheriff Harvey he set fire to the barn because it contained a buggy belonging to him and held by Tom Floyd, a tenant on the place, because he could not use the buggy himself. Whitehead said he was determined Floyd should not ride in it, with the result that he burned the barn, entailing a loss to its owner of $1,000, with no insurance.

Whitehead is the negro who was arrested some time ago charged with passing a raised check on Ed Jenkins, blind corner of Sumter county. W. T. Anderson, owner of the burned barn, is cashier of the Bank of Leslie and one of the best known young business men of Sumter county.

Prehistoric Surgery. (From Popular Mechanics Magazine.) That the use of splints in the treatment of fractures was known to the rude practitioners of prehistoric America is revealed by examination of the skeleton of a young woman recently exhumed in the Pueblo ruins at Aztec, N. Many Respond to Appeal for Money and Articles for Negro Home.

The article in last Monday's Constitution about the A. F. Herndon Day nursery for negro children, has attracted widespread attention to the deserving cause. The nursery's father is A. F. Herndon, well-known Negro Atlanta barber who gave $10,000 to this philanthropic work.

This day nursery is now housed in a splendid building recently donated to the association by Herndon. Who, in addition to investing $10,000 in the building, has donated personally the expense of one year's maintenance in charge of the home.

The nursery is located at 44 Duane street, between the intersection of west of the Terminal station, and the provision for caring for 100 negro children, who would be deprived of the priv-steps of earning their living if they had not gone to places in which they placed their children while they were at work. Fifty children are already being sent to the day nursery and day facilities of the home.

During the week as a result of the subscription to the day nursery constitution, contributions amounting to nearly $50 in cash have been received. The day nursery is being contributed by W. S. Witham, and a box of balloons by Fred S. Stewart, and a box of candy by Mrs. H. C. Harvey, and in addition to this there has been a veritable shower of contributions of clothing not only from whites but also from negroes of the city. Mrs. Harry B. Witham has been a particularly liberal donor of household goods.

The list of donations received from men and women the city over aggregates more than 100, showing that the negroes are co-operating to make a success of the movement.

Well-known business men have been especially generous in support of the movement and the benefactor whose liberality is responsible for the success of the home, has full confidence that the enterprise is now on its way to success.

The $10,000 donation of Herndon and his annual guarantee of the expenses of the home is the most liberal of the home is perhaps the most

The sixth section of Georgia's equalization act was not declared unconstitutional Monday by the supreme court of the United States, according to an Associated Press dispatch received by The Constitution Tuesday afternoon, which stated the constitutionality of the act was not considered, but that it was ruled that the estate of J. O. Morton, of Brooks county, was being granted a final hearing on its tax assessment and the case would be heard by the supreme court for proper procedure.

When the decision was first announced verbally in Washington, it was understood there was much confusion over its exact interpretation.

Mount Berry, Ga., November 9.—(Special).—Fire that broke out in Brewster hall of the Mount Berry school for boys here last Saturday morning resulted in damage to the building that is estimated at $17,000. The school fire department and the Rome firemen fought the flames, but the fire was too big and the contents were burned to the ground.

About forty boys and Professor D. E. Reynolds and his family resided in the building. No one was injured. The building is one of the oldest buildings of the Mount Berry plant, the first part of it being built in 1902 and thirteen additions being

Miss Payne Weds Mr. Funston At Ceremony in Elberton

The marriage of Miss Marigene Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Payne, of Elberton, Ga., and Mr. James Bowen Funston, son of Mr. James Bowen Funston, of Washington, D. C., was solemnized at the Presbyterian church, Elberton, Tuesday evening November 9, Rev. W. H. Keelling officiating.

The church decorations were trailing southern smilax and flesh-colored chrysanthemums. The improvised altar was banked with smilax and ferns. Tall pedestals of chrysanthemums flanked the altar, and a large arrangement of white and pink flowers was placed in front of the altar.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Herman Parks Hunter sang. During the ceremony the violin was played by Mr. Marshall Keith Hunter.

Miss Lucille Payne, the maid of honor, wore an exquisite model of blue tulle fashioned over satin, with trimmings of silver and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses.

Mrs. Charles E. Bostwick, Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. L. Tye, Jr., of Atlanta, were matrons of honor. Their flowers were beautiful in a gown of pink satin, trimmed in sequins and tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick were in a gown of pink and white. Mrs. Tye was wearing a gown of pink and white. The bridesmaids, Misses Nannie Lee Cuthbert, of Athens; Thomas M. Wright, of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Misses Kathleen Grogan and Daisy Gaines, wore pink gowns of the rainbow colors.

Misses Bostwick and Tye carried bouquets of pink and white chrysanthemums. Little Jean Bostwick, the bride's only sister, wore a white gown, trimmed in lace and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Master Harry Cleveland, Jr., of Elberton, was ring bearer and carried the ring on a white satin pillow ornamented with pink and white flowers. Master Swift Tutt was ribbon bearer.

Mr. Stanley Funston, of Philadelphia, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. Marshall Trammell was the officiating minister. Mr. Thomas Taul, of Birmingham, and Captain Howard B. Payne, of Elberton, were groomsmen.

Mrs. Carpenter, Hostess.

Mrs. Samuel W. Carpenter entertained with a Halloween party last Tuesday afternoon, celebrating the fourth birthday of her little daughter, Doris. The living room and dining room were decorated with a profusion of autumn leaves, yellow chrysanthemums, ferns and Hallowe'en pumpkins and black cats.

The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the delicious food and cakes, served from the dining table, which had for its centerpiece a large decorated cake with four lighted yellow candles.

Each guest was presented with a little yellow and black basket filled with bonbons, also a small favor as a souvenir.

A Hearty Food For Hungry Folks

FOLLOW the good old southern recipe and cook a dish of rice so that each plump, tender flake stands separately. Take the clear pan gravy of roast beef or the thickened gravy of roast pork—or any gravy, and pour it over the rice. You can't beat it for deliciousness.

Nothing you can eat will save you as much money. Rice is the most economical of foods. One cupful makes enough for a family of five. Not one penny's worth is ever wasted. Rice that is left can be made into dozens of tasty dishes.

The exceptional properties of rice make it an excellent health food. Rice gives strength to the hard-working man, and sustains that strength. It supplies nourishment, and promotes healthy growth in children. It is more easily and quickly digested than any other food. The rice that America produces is the finest in the world.

The Master Recipe from the Sunny South

You can cook rice just like they cook it down south. Their justly famous recipe is so simple that, by following it, anyone can successfully cook rice the first time they try.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or agate-ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—never stir the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious. Consult any standard cook book for a number of excellent recipes for rice.

Kiwanians From All Sections of Georgia Gather Here Officers and Next Convention City Will Be Named Today

When the Kiwanians come to town all kinds of stunts may be expected, and Tuesday four of them learned how it felt to be dressed up in convict garb lined up to learn the lock-step and guarded by real policemen. The top picture, reading from left to right shows: Officer J. C. Simmons, E. C. Andrews, of Atlanta; John Aldredge, of Atlanta; G. G. Harris, of Rome; C. Right, top: Dr. Samuel Green, of Atlanta, and President E. A. Cutts, of the Savannah Kiwanis club. Bottom: J. A. Merriam, secretary of the Savannah club, and C. H. Weekly, of Atlanta.

With splendid representation from each of the 15 clubs in Georgia, the first annual convention of the Georgia district of Kiwanis Clubs was called to order Tuesday afternoon in the Kimball house ball room by District Governor Robert S. Wessels. The next and final session will convene at 9 o'clock this morning.

The afternoon session began at 2:30 o'clock and the ball room was well filled with out-of-town delegates and members of the local club. An invocation was offered by Dr. Wallace Rogers, pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church. Frank T. Reynolds was elected temporary secretary.

The feature of Tuesday's session was an inspiring address on "The Origin, History and Principles of Kiwanis," by Dr. Middleton S. Barnwell, president of the Birmingham club, and one of the best beloved members of the clergy in that city. At the conclusion of his message he was tendered a rousing vote of thanks.

Kiwanis Is Different.

Dr. Barnwell said that he had of the limitation and join the real thing," he said.

The Kiwanis movement, he said, was begun by a group of business men who formed a luncheon club after figuring it would be a good plan to improve general business conditions. One man from each profession or line of business was granted membership, and the idea was for each member to patronize club members only. In this way, it was figured, the business or practice of every member would increase materially, for 100 or so new permanent customers would prove a big asset.

The inevitable happened shortly, he said. Big hearted, broad-minded members soon began to search their minds for some method in which the Kiwanis club could serve mankind. The great war came and offered its many opportunities for civic bodies to render real service, and the Kiwanians found themselves happy in the performance of real worth-while, unselfish things. Out of the mainstream of war came a bigger and stronger Kiwanis club, and selfishness was cast to the scrapheap.

Thorough Reorganization.
With the change in purpose from personal gain to service to mankind came a thorough reorganization of Kiwanis. Its basic principles, co-operation and service, "We Build" was adopted as the Kiwanis motto, and at the international convention in Portland last year it was adopted as the official slogan.

One of the first steps taken in the revolutionization of Kiwanis was the abolishment of the single class system. On constitution, Dr. Barnwell said, and the adoption of the policy permitting two members from each business or profession, with a view of bringing competitors together and making friendly relations instead of being business enemies sitting in dark offices plotting each other's ruin.

Dr. Barnwell declared that peace could not be guaranteed by any league or covenant until the spirit of fellowship as exemplified by Kiwanian principles has reached around the world.

The visiting delegates were welcomed to Atlanta by Mayor Key, on behalf of the municipal government, and Henry Heinz, on behalf of the Atlanta Kiwanis club. Mr. Heinz is chairman of the board of directors of the local club and was the club's second president.

A response to the addresses of welcome was made by Ernest Cutts, president of the Savannah Kiwanis club.

Important Features.
Other important features of the session was the report of District Governor Wessels and the announcements of convention committees, which are as follows: On constitution and by-laws, Wilkinson, of Eastman; Hall of Macon, and Walter man of Hawkinsville; on credentials, West, Brooks and McCalley, of Atlanta; on resolutions, Guerry, of Augusta; Calloway of Albany, and Rowland, of Savannah, and on grievances, Harris, of Macon, and Johnson, of Columbus, and Patillo, of Atlanta. The committees will report back to the convention at today's session.

The report of the district governor covered his work for the past year, which consisted mainly of organizing new clubs in the state. One year ago the Atlanta club was the only one in Georgia, and at this time fifteen have received charters from international headquarters.

The Atlanta club was chartered in June, 1918. Chronologically, the fourteen other clubs were chartered as follows: Rome, December 2, 1919; Columbus, January 22, 1920; Columbus, January 29; Augusta, March 9; Athens, March 17; Macon, March 28; Savannah, May 19; Albany, June 9; Americus, June 17; Eastman, July 1; Dublin, July 29; Milledgeville, October 15; Washington, October 28; and Hawkinsville, November 4.

"The present net state membership is 1,286," Governor Wessels reported. "This membership, secured under the present organization plan of Kiwanis International, has resulted in the enrollment of a high type of business and professional men, carefully selected in each community, and producing thereby organizations which will reflect great benefit, not alone to the individual cities and to the state, and to Kiwanis International, but to individual members as well."

Warren Kimsey Praised.
Governor Wessels acknowledged the creditable services rendered by Warren Kimsey, field representative, who was largely instrumental in expanding the Kiwanis organization in Georgia to its present size.

All visiting delegates and their ladies were the guests of the Atlanta club at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday, which was held at the Capital City club. Henry Heinz presided, and seated at the speakers' table were international president J. Mercer Barnett, Dr. Barnwell and the presidents of several Georgia clubs.

A number of amusing stunts were staged at the expense of visiting delegates, and a delightful program of music had been provided. Several brief talks were made by visitors. Fully 500 persons were present.

The Kiwanis dinner-dance at East Lake Country club Tuesday night, attended by all Kiwanians and their ladies, was a pleasant occasion. A splendid menu had been prepared, and a program of interpretive dancing and music was enjoyed. Arthur Brooks was chairman of the committee in charge.

Foremost on today's program will be the address of President Barnett, which will be delivered shortly after the session convenes at 9 o'clock, and the election of officers. A district governor, three lieutenant governors, a district secretary and a district treasurer are to be chosen for one year. Reports of the convention committees will then be received. The next convention city will be selected.

NEW LORD MAYOR RULING IN LONDON

London, November 9.—The historic procession of the newly-elected lord mayor of London, participated in by the dignitaries of the municipal corporation, wended its way through the streets of the metropolis today following the formal induction of Alderman James Roll into the office yesterday.

Today's ceremony lacked much of the customary pageantry, because of the uncertainty of conditions created by the recent coal strike. Nevertheless, thousands of people crowded the streets to watch officialdom parade.

WHISKY OUTPUT SHOWS INCREASE, SAYS U. S. JUDGE

Chattanooga, Tenn., November 9. Declaring that manufacture and sale of whisky was showing an alarming increase in East Tennessee, Judge Edward T. Sanford, in a charge to the federal grand jury here announced a more drastic policy in dealing with violators of the prohibition laws, declaring those convicted would be given a year and a day in the federal prison at Atlanta in addition to heavy fines.

Judge Sanford said the growth of "moonshining" was due to the excessive profits gathered from the illicit traffic and that unless the courts took action immediately the industry would continue to become a still greater menace.

FLORIDA HAS GREAT TEAM AND GEORGIA MUST BATTLE GREAT PREP BATTLES ON TAP FRIDAY

BY JOHN W. MASON.

Atlanta, Ga., November 9.—(Special.)—To paraphrase a bit, "All roads lead to Athens," because Saturday the University of Georgia football warriors will lock horns with the University of Florida Gators in the annual clash between these two eleven. Five straight games have been played away from Gainesville City far away from the cheers of the supporters of the Red and Black. So it is with eager anticipation and with the figurative "lick the chops" feeling that the people of Athens and Georgia are awaiting the appearance of the Georgia eleven Saturday.

Those of the fans who are expecting a walkover for the Red and Black have another thought coming. Florida has lost one game and that by a narrow margin to the Tulane Medico. They have an invincible line, and one of the best backfields seen in years. Tulane worked the oval down to the one-yard line and failed to put it across the white line for the six-point tally. Such brilliant defensive playing as this has been a hot encounter for the hitherto undefeated Georgia team on Sanford mead Saturday. The Florida eleven is coached by a disciple of the mentor, Zuppe, of Illinois fame. Coach Kline has installed all kinds of varied attack into his eleven, and he has a trick or so to spring on the Red and Black.

In 1918, the Georgia-Florida game was played one week before the Tech fray. The game was not regarded as a highly important contest, but the Florida eleven soon convinced all concerned that it was Georgia fought with her back to the wall for the first two quarters and had all she could do to hold the Gators, and keep them away from Red and Black territory. After a prolonged struggle, Billy Powell broke loose for the initial Georgia touchdown. This seemed to be the stimulus needed, and three more six-point markers were pushed across. It was a hard struggle, however, and only won by a hard fight.

Next Battle.

In 1918, the contest was staged in Athens and was just as hard to win as its predecessor. "Bull" Garman, all-southern center, was out of the fray in a few minutes with a broken knee, and for three quarters Florida held the Red and Black scoreless. Coach Cunningham then summoned his wounded men into the fray, and McLaws, Reynolds and Thrash scored a touchdown each. Last year the game resulted in a 15 to 0 victory for the Georgia eleven. It was played in Tampa under the intense heat of the Florida sun. The people witnessing the game were garbed in the conventional Palm Beach, and were engaged mostly in manipulating palm-leaf fans. Georgia won this fracas by two touchdowns and a drop kick, but it was a fight to the finish. Artie Few and Rigdon had to be left in Tampa, as the Florida heat was too much for even their rugged frames.

This year, Florida has the same line-up that she had last. Her best bet in the line seem to be Perry, who played a game at the center position in 1919, and Baker, a dependable guard, who pairs off with Perry. The Floridians are "laying for" Georgia and will come well "needed." This afternoon a very novel experiment was made. The second variety, composed of the men who did not get in the Virginia game, was pitted against the scrubs, and Mark Anthony, the biggest man on the field, was played at the fullback position. Anthony tips the scale at something over 200, and it's 200 pounds of "great tough" drive. The result this afternoon was highly interesting. Mark hit the line for

GREAT PREP BATTLES ON TAP FRIDAY

BY J. LAUREN CLARK.

Friday afternoon will go down in history with the days of the battles of Hastings, Bull Run, Vicksburg, Pointe and many others. On that afternoon the "Thin Red Line" of the Georgia Military Academy will line up on Grant field to battle with the strong Junior Smithies of the Tech High school for the championship of Atlanta.

The City League is composed of three teams, Boys' High, Tech High and G. M. A. Boys' High and the cadets met last Friday, and the latter won by a very comfortable score. On the Saturday following Thanksgiving, the two high schools will meet, but judging from the dope, substantial gains and seemed to be unstoppable. Jim Taylor, who played his first collegiate game at the tackle position against the Auburn Tigers, also showed up well from the full-back berth.

Plans are on foot to make Saturday a gala occasion. A petition will be presented to the different stores, asking them to close their doors and declare a half-holiday in tribute to the 1920 variety and to the university. The Georgia band will be on hand, and the outlook will exceed all expectations. Mail orders will be filled as fast as they are received. Tichenor, of Auburn, will referee the contest, which guarantees a fast, snappy game and instant decisions. The Georgia band will burst forth with the famous "Glorious" for the first time since October 2, when Georgia last played on Sanford field. No large score is expected if the Red and Black is fortunate enough to win, and the spectators will see a hard-fought game against one of the best eleven in the S. I. A. A.

Boys' High will have little chance of a victory over the Smithies. Of course, a football team, doped to lose by a large score, has turned the tables and emerged with a victory, but in this case this is hardly probable. The battle Friday will decide the champions of Atlanta.

Tech High has one of the largest prep lines in the state this season. On the other hand, the cadets' line is about the lightest. Although the writer has not figured the respective weights of the two lines to the fraction of an ounce, judging from a rough way, the Smithies will have the advantage of about 15 pounds per man.

On the flanks, G. M. A. has two men that are hard to beat. Carter and DuBose are the men, and both have the art of tackling down to a point. For Tech High, Richardson and Curran will look after the wings. These two men are also good, but the cadets' pair have a slight edge.

At tackle, the Smithies are the favorites. Captain Williams holds down one berth, and a better man will be hard to find. He is an all-prep man, and well deserves the place, as he is the bulk of strength in the forward defense. Jack Sartin is the other tackle. Both these men are heavy, weighing around 175 pounds. Next to the ends, G. M. A. will present Blackwood, the heaviest man in the line, and Rogers.

The guard positions on the G. M. A. eleven are not certain. Saunders and Stone will take care of all the business next to the center. Both these men have good weight, and are good, steady line-men. At the pivot will appear Helvey, the largest man in the Tech High line. Helvey is about 190 pounds, and he is 190 pounds of a football player. Pantale will play center for the cadets. Like Helvey, this is his first year in the middle of the line. Pantale is not very large in stature, but he is capable of handling the job. In the back field it will be Meiers versus Gordy. These two men will be in a class by themselves. They are both fast, and demons in a broken field. Meiers will have the edge on Gordy, as the G. M. A. captain has been running with the ball under his arm since he has been large enough to walk. "Froggy" has shown up well this year. Gordy

BY FORD LITTLE.

No practice was held out at Oglethorpe university Monday, as the majority of the men, who saw action against Furman Saturday, were doped up. The complete, overwhelming defeat which Oglethorpe received at the hands of Furman university last Saturday came as quite a shock to the Petrel eleven, as well as their supporters. Furman was doped to win and most of the persons connected with the team realized that the chances of the Petrels defeating Furman were very slim, but in their worst spells of pessimism they never dreamed that is about the most consistent ground-gainer in the Smithie back field. This is his first year as a variety man, but he is as good as can be found. Both these men will bear watching.

At full, Thompson, of Tech High, will rank Robinson, of G. M. A. "Smack" can hit the line about as hard as any player in the state. Robinson is no slouch himself, and well fills the position as a line-bucker. The other two men in the back field are about even.

Looking over the records of these teams for this season, we find that G. M. A. is clean, while Tech High has one defeat chalked up against her. The remaining games of the prep team that has forced Tech High to bow in defeat. In the game Friday, this problem must be solved. Can the light, speedy cadet team overcome the heavy Tech High eleven, when the Smithies are also quite speedy? The game will start at 3 o'clock, and will be a blood-curdling affair that will offer plenty of excitement to the football fans of Atlanta.

the stormy Petrels would return to Atlanta with the memory of such a complete routing.

The game last Saturday is history, however. Like the best of the dead past bury the dead. They are offering alibis. They realize that the defeat handed them came from a superior team in weight, speed and determination to show that they have a lot of football ability and fight left in them.

On Tuesday the team reported for practice on Hermance field. They were determined to show that they were not broken-spirited, but realizing that they had received a bad licking and determined to show that they have a lot of football ability and fight left in them.

The variety and scrubs were then lined-up for a scrimmage, the variety line was used by the Petrels. The line showed more fight. A slight change was made in the offensive formation used by the variety line and the change seemed to be a good one. Holes big enough to drive a wagon through were opened up in the scrub line and the Petrels were picking out these holes nicely.

Varnado played one of the best defensive games shown by any member of the team this year, at Furman last Saturday. His work in keeping the line from getting through was brilliant and he continued his excellent work Tuesday's scrimmage. Time after time Parr broke through the scrub line for gains averaging ten or fifteen yards. The line also showed more fight. A slight change was made in the offensive formation used by the variety line and the change seemed to be a good one. Holes big enough to drive a wagon through were opened up in the scrub line and the Petrels were picking out these holes nicely.

If the men continue playing as they did against the scrubs yesterday, the chances of the Petrels may both result in victories.

KILLING ACCIDENTAL, DEFENDANT TO CLAIM

The trial of J. C. Knight, a car conductor, indicted for murder, as a result of the death of James M. Meane, transportation superintendent of the Georgia Railway and Power company, in the company's office, October 1, was continued from Tuesday morning until Wednesday morning in the criminal division of the Fulton superior court on account of counsel for the defense being tied up on a case in another court.

The state, through Solicitor John A. Boykin, announced it was ready for trial Tuesday, when the case was called. Walter Sims, who represents the defendant along with Murphy Holloway, asked that the case be continued, as he was engaged in another court.

Knight will contend that the shooting was accidental.

MOTORCYCLIST FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

J. L. Springer, aged 19, of 39 Inverness, who several weeks ago injured Senator Furman Barrett, of Toconos, with a motorcycle which he was driving, was fined $10 Tuesday by Recorder Johnson, for reckless driving. Senator Barrett, who was struck in front of the Terminal station, suffered a broken arm and other injuries.

Sensor Barrett appeared in the recorder's court against the youth and requested Judge Johnson to make the sentence as light as possible consistent with law enforcement. He said the young man's father had promised that the motorcycle would be sold.

Visiting Negro Robbed.

Hattie Mae McCain, a negro woman who, in company with two negroes, is alleged to have held up Will Venable, colored, of Decatur, with knives, and taken $10.46 and a suitcase containing clothing from him, was held yesterday in default of $1,000 bond fixed by Recorder Johnson, for trial on a charge of robbery. Policemen arrested the woman on Piedmont Avenue shortly after the robbery. The men eluded capture.

Better Half—I see a man at New-castle has got into trouble by marrying a woman.

Worse Half—(getting a bit of his own back)—A man nearer home got into trouble by marrying only one—Miss Mills.

56. O. P. CONGRESSMEN ELECTED IN TENNESSEE

Cordell Hull One of the Democrats Who Was Defeated.

Memphis, Tenn., November 9.—Completion early today of the official canvass in the eighth congressional district, giving Lon A. Scott, republican, a majority of 638 votes and the victory over his democratic opponent, Gordon Browning, fixed the political alignment of the Tennessee delegation in the next house of representatives, on the face of the returns, as five republicans and five democrats—a net republican gain of three members.

According to the returns, in addition to the democratic defeat in the eighth district, republican congressmen were elected in the first and second districts, normally republican, and in the third and fourth districts, heretofore represented by democrats. Democratic incumbents were re-elected in the other five districts.

Moon and Hull Lose.

In the third district, Representative John A. Moon, democrat, was defeated by Joseph Brown, republican. In the fourth district, the official count shows Representative Cordell Hull, democrat, nation's committeeman, defeated by W. F. Clouse, republican, by 390 votes.

Browning, defeated in the eighth district, was named as the democratic nominee from that district over Representative Thelus W. Sims, in the primary of last August. Representative Sims and Mr. Moon have been members of congress successively since 1897. Representative Hull has represented his district in the house of representatives thirteen years.

The republicans in the next congress from this state, in addition to Scott, Brown and Clouse, will be Representative J. Will Taylor, re-elected in the second district, and Carroll Reese, who defeated Representative Sam R. Sells, in the republican primary. The democratic members of the congressional delegation will be Representatives Edwin L. Davis, in the fifth district; Joseph W. Byrns, in the sixth; Lemuel F. Padgett, in the seventh; Finis J. Garrett, in the ninth, and Hubert Fisher, in the tenth.

Statement by Cordell Hull.

Nashville, Tenn., November 9.—In a formal statement issued today from his home at Carthage, Cordell Hull, democrat congressman from the fourth district, expressed the conviction that if the reports that Morgan county has given a majority against him of twelve hundred to thirteen hundred were true, that his republican opponent, W. F. Clouse, of Cookeville, was elected by 200 to 300 votes.

Hull, who has been one of Tennessee's most notable figures in congress, accepts the indications of defeat gracefully. "I am always content," his statement says, "to go up or down with my party. I shall always feel a pride in the fact that I was responsible for much beneficial legislation, including the sole authorship of our national income tax system, the federal estate or inheritance tax law and in the main the law to stabilize liberty bonds."

Camel CIGARETTES

Dear Old Boy Pete!

This corner of the U.S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he crosses the Lone Star state! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folk's hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then and there a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party coins Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm set! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (Now listen, Peter!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" etc, etc! Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Between you and me I'll be gazing at tall buildings and things around 43rd & Broadway—New York—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!

Sincerely
Shorty.

port was lacking and there was talk current that Kansas bankers were discussing credit curtailment which would force much grain on the market.

Wheat closed heavy, 6 1/4 to 7 1/4 net lower, with December $1.77 to $1.78, and March $1.75 to $1.76 1/4.
Corn lost 2 1/4 to 3 1/4, and oats 2 1/4 to 2 3/4. Provisions finished unchanged to 40c lower.

At first the wheat market showed an upward tendency in response to rallies in foreign exchange. Besides shorts manifested a disposition to cover on account of the severity of recent declines. When demand from shorts had been satisfied, however, the bottom seemed to drop out of the market and prices rapidly descended, notwithstanding assertions that large receipts of late at southwestern terminals had been due to clearing out of elevator stocks and not to selling by farmers.

Toward the last part of the day attention centered more and more on possible extensive selling of cotton in Kansas. Bearish economic developments and weakness in the New York stock market counted also as notable depressing factors.
Corn and oats were away by the action of wheat. Automatic stop loss selling orders did a good deal to accelerate the downward plunge of all cereals.
Provisions fell with hog and cattle.
